

YUANLI

Back to where I came from

IDEA

The fabric is dyed by dyes

which made by the mud of Huoyanshan mountain

The pattern of fabric was inspired by Yuanli Fire Brick.

PROCESS

This is my hometown Yuanli.

I've combined weaved-rush with mudding fabric to show my love for the land that nurtures so many generations and myself.

Rush-weaving is a traditional craft passed down for more than a hundred year in Yuanli, and mudding fabric is dyed by the mud in the neighbor.

I feel bonded through time and space with my hometown by incorporating these two materials into my design. The outline of my outfit can be huge and roomy, demonstrating a warm and reassuring impression, just like every time I feel when I am back to Yuanli.
